FRANCE IS NOW THROBBING WITH REVOLT

CITIZENS SHY FROM BARTNETT JURY

About 20 Present Out of Venire of 50

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Excuses were the order of the day in the Bartnett trial this morning and it seemed at first as if it would be necessary to summon a second special venire. Fewer than twenty of the fifty talesmen subpoenaed put in appearance when the case was called at 10 o'clock and of these the majority had excuses and Judge Conley kept busy letting them off for one reason or another.

Have you any objection to summoning another special venire? questioned the court after he had let off one man after another. It seems as though three-quarters of this list has been taken from the hospitals and infirmaries.

Called to Jury Box
Neither side had any objection to calling a special panel but it was found there were a few jurors still in court and their names were placed in the box. Dennis Hogan, Herman L. Meyer and Noah S. Friedberg were called to fill the vacant places.

Hogan said he was a carpenter and resided at 1274 14th street. After Attorney Cook had examined him for about a quarter of an hour he appeared to the court saying that he was deaf in the right ear and as this is the one nearer to the witness stand he was excused.

Friedberg L. Meyer in reply to a question by the assistant district attorney said he was deaf in the other ear being he one nearer to Attorney Cook and he was forthwith excused.

Had Other Ailments.
"You're not deaf are you Mr. Friedberg?" questioned Cook. "I don't think so," replied the talesman. "I have other ailments though."

After a lengthy examination by both sides, Friedberg, who is a real estate agent living at 1781 Post street, was accepted subject to peremptory challenge.

and Frank T. Johnson and Edward Bacon were called to fill the vacant seats in the jury box.

WAS IT A ROYALIST PLOT?

Opinions Are Divided Among the French—Nationalist Organ Tells the People to Turn to Their 'King,' Meaning the Duke of Orleans.

PARIS, June 5.—Whether yesterday's attempt on the life of Major Alfred Dreyfus was but the individual act of a man who believed himself to have been an outraged patriot or had behind it an incipient national plot the republican press is unanimous in deploring the incident and believes it injured rather than aided that cause.

Consolidated Republican Sentiment.

Even those papers which doubted the wisdom of burying Emile Zola in the Pantheon think that the shooting of Major Dreyfus consolidated the republican sentiment and they evidently desire to see the incident die out as quickly as possible. In an attempt to open the old Dreyfus issue at the trial of Louis Georges the man who shot the major they

SAVINGS OF YEARS ARE STOLEN

Search Instituted by Detectives for A. V. Molles, Accused by Room-mates of $770 Theft; Trip to Portugal Planned.

Local detectives are today in search of Antonio Vierra Molles of 1117 Seventh street, who is accused of the theft of $770 in gold from Antonio P. Meco and Manuel Quintal of the same address. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Molles, who is said to have fled to Portugal.

According to the complaint they had faithfully saved their earnings for many months in the hopes of returning to the home of their birth. Molles and his room-mates lived on the same street address. Molles is at the present time in the hands of the police, having been arrested on a charge of having stolen the sum of $770 while at work.

Yesterday morning the men that they were to start for Portugal, the next twenty-four asked for their money. Molles said he had it safely stowed away in the safe deposit of a local bank. At a stated time, Pucheco called on him and but Molles failed to put in an appearance and has not been seen. His personal effects were moved.

PLUNGES TO DEATH ON STAIRS

Member of Titled Swedish Family, Who Left Home for Sea When Young, Is Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—John Johnson, 46 years old, a sailor, residing at 211 Steuart street, was instantly killed at 1 o'clock this morning by falling down a flight of stairs in the lodging house at 242 East street, where he was spending the evening with some friends.

Johnson was playing cards with four companions on the second floor, and left the room for a few moments, leaving the door open. The light from the electric lamp within flooded the hallway and he was able to see. Before his return someone had closed the door and he groped his way back in the darkness. Being unfamiliar with the premises, he passed by the room and, reaching the stairway, plunged headlong.

Johnson comes from a titled family of Gottenburg, Sweden. His full name is Stoltz John Johnson, and he is said to have had trouble with his parents a good many years ago and gone to sea. He has never returned to his native land, although frequently asked to do so by his relatives.

Remains Will Be Sent to Honolulu

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The remains of Prince David Kawananakoa, brother of Prince "Cupid," Hawaiian territorial delegates to the United States, will be shipped to Honolulu on Tuesday for burial. The remains were found in a small box in a rooming house at 242 East street, where he was spending the evening with some friends.

RECEIVER EDOFF IS A VIGILANT OFFICIAL

Prompt Action Will Benefit the California Bank Depositors

Prompt action on the part of James P. Edoff, receiver for the defunct California Bank of Oakland has been the means of giving the depositors of that bank an equal footing with other creditors of the bank of Ventura. The failure of which contributed in a measure to the collapse of the Oakland institution.

Earl White of the firm of Smith & Church, has succeeded in obtaining an alternative writ of prohibition to prevent the Ventura Bank receiver from declaring a dividend to depositors of 75 per cent. This writ was issued by the Appellate Court of the Southern California district. Received Edoff made the following statement today to THE TRIBUNE representative.

In the matter of the claim of the California Bank against the bank of William Collins & Sons of Ventura when I took charge as receiver I found that the bank of William Collins & Sons owed the California Bank of Oakland the sum of $171,000 or thereabouts.

Mrs. Hazel Cuncle Still in Love With Spouse

E. J. Jones, father of Mrs. Hazel Cuncle, was at police headquarters this morning to learn what steps necessary to take to effect the release of his daughter, who has been in the city prison for the last three weeks. Jones who was at one of the most prominent cattlemen in the state said this morning that he would be refused admission to his home or permitted to see his daughter, the members of his family, his daughter included, had arrived at the conclusion that Cuncle had been misled enough.

SCHOOL BOY RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Eight-Year-Old Lad Is Seriously Injured When Struck by Automobile, in Front of Which He Stepped.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Robert Warren, an eight-year-old school boy, who lives at 1400 ones street was run down and seriously injured by an automobile driven by Edward Fowler at Polk and Clay streets shortly after noon today. The lad stepped almost directly in front of the machine. He was picked up by Officers McDonnell and Burd who are on a passing street car, and taken to the Central Emergency hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Beasley.

point out would be plainly extraneous. Fury of Nationalist Press. On the other hand the fury of the nationalist press is unbounded. L'Action Francaise fires a broadside which recalls the most exciting days of Dreyfus and Boulenger. At the head of its column, this newspaper prints a statement by Charles Maurras in which it is likely the authorities will investigate. In this article the writer says that on Wednesday night "a resolute patriot" visited M. Daudet and Lieutenant Boissery and himself offered to kill Dreyfus, but his proposal was rejected. A leading editorial in this paper appeals to the country to turn to the Duke of Orleans for redress and concludes with these words: "Invoke Your King." "Do you desire that Zola's body be ejected from the Pantheon? Do you desire to march Dreyfus to the execution block? If so invoke your king." The decision of the Court of Cassation to cut off the time for an appeal the paper says is illegal, and it concludes its article as follows: "We ask for Dreyfus is not six balls from a revolver, but the twelve bullets of the execution squad." Other newspapers declare that Gregoris, much grieved at the recent death of his mother, has lately manifested signs of mental derangement.

DEFERS SENTENCE OF WONG EIGHTH TIME

For the eighth time the matter of sentencing to death Wong Loung, a Chinese highbinder, was continued in Superior Judge Ogden's court this morning. Attorney Stanley Moore, counsel for the Chinese, sent word that he could not be present in court this morning to argue for a new trial, and asked for a week's continuance, which was granted. Wong Loung was convicted by a jury of a charge of murdering Lee Chung in a long war last November. He is the first man who has been convicted of murder in the first degree without recommendation in this county in nine years.

Thirteenth and Franklin streets. Oak-land. The equity being valued at $150,000. A ranch up in Glenn county, the value of which was fixed at $5000; 5000 shares of the Central Brick Company of Point Richmond, the value of which was fixed at $8 a share, and some 800 shares of the California Bank stock, the value of which was fixed in round numbers to about $80,000, and that after all the depositors at Ventura had been paid in full whatever surplus remained in Ventura was to go to D. Edward Collins and John Collins, and to be by them transferred to the California Bank, in the event that the securities above made mention of were not sufficient to pay the note of $171,000 or thereabouts.

Make a Statement. "Judge Daly had frequent consultations with the board of directors and showed a statement of affairs of William Collins & Sons, which as he stated at a low figure would net the Collins' from $140,000 to $150,000 after all the creditors of the Bank of Ventura were paid. The board of directors finally agreed to this settlement but inserted that clause in the resolution: 'Subject to the approval of the Bank Commissioners of the State of California.'"

"Judge Daly at that time was the attorney of certain large depositors of the Bank of Ventura. The Bank Commissioners having taken charge of the bank after the resolution had been passed by the board of directors and placed their custodian in charge, and delivery of all these papers was made to this custodian. "I was appointed receiver on the 17th of January, 1908, and took full charge about the 25th or 26th of January, 1908. I immediately began an investigation of this transaction, went to Ventura, went carefully over the assets of the Bank of Ventura and as a result of my investigations asked the Bank Commissioners to furnish me a copy of the resolution they were supposed to have, ratifying the acts of this board of directors."

Action by Commission.

"On February 1, 1908, the Bank Commission passed a resolution ratifying the acts of the board of directors, but entered the following clause in their resolution: 'Subject to the approval of the Superior Court of Alameda county.' "I desire to call attention to the fact that the resolution ratifying the acts of the board of directors by the Bank Commission was passed after I had become receiver."

A Big Shrinkage.

"I found that the so called equity on Thirteenth and Franklin streets, Oakland, was not worth to exceed the sum of $15,000, that the ranch in Glenn county was not worth to exceed the sum of $2000, that the brick stock had no value apparently and that the California Bank stock had no value whatever, and that there was no surplus in the Bank of Ventura."

"The bank in Ventura, as I figured it out, owed approximately $500,000, which $500,000 included the debt owed the California Bank of Oakland. All the assets that I could find in my examination did not exceed $445,000, so instead of finding a surplus such as Judge Daly made mention of I found on the contrary a shrinkage of nearly $100,000."

Went to Court.

"I then took the matter to the Superior Court of Alameda county and petitioned that the court do not approve of this settlement. The court took my view of the matter and declined to approve. "During all this time negotiations had been kept up between the firm of William Collins & Sons and myself, as receiver, and every time we would come to a tentative agreement, Judge Daly, who had been appointed receiver of the William Collins & Sons, would take some different position until finally I took the position that I would make no settlement of any kind with the receiver of William Collins & Sons, and would stand upon one proposition, that the California Bank receive in payment of its amount the same per cent that any creditor of William Collins & Sons did receive.

Applied for Writ.

"As soon as I learned that the receiver of William Collins & Sons had applied to the Superior Court of Ventura for permission to declare a dividend of 25 per cent and in that petition had virtually declared the California Bank, of which I am receiver, out, I made up my mind that all negotiations so far as I am concerned be declared off and immediately applied to the Appellate Court of the Southern District of California in Los Angeles for a writ of prohibition on all parties concerned in Ventura, returnable June 22, and took such other course in law, which will in time develop itself, that was necessary for the protection of the depositors of the California Bank."

"In one way I am sorry that we could not arrive at a fair settlement, but on the other hand I really feel more satisfied in having the matter in its present form, because now I am receiver, feel that I will get what is honestly coming to the California Bank, and have no regret in days to come, that I had made what might turn out to be a bad settlement."

WEATHER REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—San Francisco and vicinity: Fair tonight and Saturday; brisk west wind, changing to light north.

LEHNHARDT PLANS A SURPRISE

Will Make Ice Cream Specialty for Sunday From Famous N. Y. Recipe.

Lehnhardt the candy man has a great novelty to furnish as a dessert for next Sunday's dinners of those who may be looking for a novelty.

For many years the golden ice cream at Delmonico's in New York has been famous. Thousands have marveled at the wonders of this delightful dish and as many have tried to learn the secret of its making.

Only until recently has the recipe been given out and then but to a chosen few among whom was one of Lehnhardt's ice cream makers, then a resident of New York and a close personal friend of Delmonico's ice cream man.

This dessert has been tried in a small way in the test rooms of Lehnhardt's ice cream factory until it has reached perfection and now, for practically the first time, is offered to the people of California. It is delicious beyond all description, different from any thing you've ever tasted. It will be sold by the quart at 75c per quart or in great golden bricks at 80c a brick (enough for eight people.) It will also be sold, if preferred, combined with crushed strawberries at the same prices, although with the strawberries it does not hold its rich golden color as well.

It is the purest, finest and most difficult frozen dessert it is possible to make, special machinery being necessary to produce it. In honor of the original maker it has been called "Delmonico's Ice Cream." On account of the great difficulty in producing this wonderful dish it has been possible to make but a limited quantity, consequently those interested are advised to telephone immediately (Oakland 497) and make reservations for whatever amount they wish delivered Sunday, stating at the same time the hour they wish it sent out. There will be no charge for delivery.

Your stomach can digest

when it can't digest any other food. That's because the crisp flakes of whole wheat are thoroughly mixed with the saliva and other digestive fluids, and because the starch in the wheat is converted into dextrine by barley-malt, thereby relieving your intestines of the hardest part of their work.

"FORCE" is made of the best white wheat, steam-cooked, rolled into thin flakes, combined with the purest barley-malt and baked. Always "crisp" it before serving it by pouring into a pan and warming it in oven. Then serve in large dish with cream, filling the flakes in one side of the dish and pouring the cream in the other side, dipping the flakes as eaten.

Your Grocer sells it.
No other Flaked Food is "just as good."

HER THROAT IS CUT BY SUITOR

Woman Seized and Fatally Attacked by Former Lover Concealed Under Her Bed While Retiring.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—As she slipped her night gown over her head, preparatory to retiring at 11 o'clock last night, Mrs. Elizabeth Gering of 2855 Osage street, this city, was seized by a man who had scroumled under the bed and her throat was cut. She crumpled in a heap and lost consciousness. She is not expected to live. Her assailant, who is said to be a former suitor, fled to the street and is at large.

Members of the family encountered her assailant as he rushed from the house, and they told the police they recognized the man as a former suitor of Mrs. Gering. Mrs. Gering is 33 years old. Recently she and her husband separated.

COWARD DIVORCE CASE POSTPONED

Wife Will Fight to Retain the Custody of the Two Children.

The hearing of the application of H. C. Coward, the prominent suit manufacturer, for the guardianship of his two children, who were awarded to his former wife, Mrs. Ella M. Coward, when she obtained a divorce from him last August, did not go on today before Superior Judge Harris, but was continued until next Monday.

Mrs. Coward is making a bitter fight against her husband's efforts to take her children away from her. She claims her husband is an unfit person to have the custody of the children, whom Judge Harris recently sent to the Lady of the Sacred Heart Convent pending the hearing of the father's application for their custody.

—Will you come with us to Broadmoor Sunday and just see what it is like?

—“Come with us,” we say, “not to buy, not to decide, but just to see the tract.”

—We will have courteous, painstaking, well informed salesmen to tell you all of our plans and to show you all we have done. We will show you how $300,000 has been invested in one little bit of garden ground of only 150 acres.

—You'll have a good time, the soothing country air will do you good; it will be a day of recreation and of inspiration.

—Yes, a day of inspiration, for Broadmoor is inspiring—it inspires you to dream of the future—of your future and of Broadmoor's future—the very atmosphere of Broadmoor sets the day dreams dancing and the future's fancies spring up until you can almost see Broadmoor five years from now.

—And what do you see?

—What will you see at Broadmoor five years from the day of this writing?

—You'll see the most magnificent grouping of American country homes in California—you'll see lawns and gardens you've never imagined could be made to grow in California.

—You'll see rest combined with recreation, you'll see club houses, tennis courts, a polo match in the nearby fields, golf links across the rolling ground of the nearby hills.

—You'll see the children with their ponies, the young folks with their cobs and the old folks in their steamer chairs basking in the sunshine.

—You'll see a picture of health and healthy exercise—you'll see a community of the families of country gentlemen and of well-to-do business men.

—You'll see half acre pieces selling at thousands of dollars which can be bought today for a few hundreds—you'll see mansion where now you see nothing.

—How do we know?

—By the way Broadmoor has started—by the character of people Broadmoor is interesting—by the plans we have in view and the knowledge we have of our ability to carry them out.

—There's a demand for just such a country home place as Broadmoor—Oakland needs a Hollywood Park or a Burlingame and Broadmoor will supply the need.

—So may we have a bit of your time on Sunday?—Not to buy, remember, unless you wish—just to look around, for there may be some of your friends who MAY wish to buy and we would like to have YOU well informed.

—Good night, folks, happy dreams of Broadmoor!

BERKELEY, June 5.—The pupils of the blind department of the Deaf and Blind Institute this evening will present their final concert for the present school year. Rehearsals for the various numbers have been in progress for the past two months. The program, which will consist of instrumental and vocal selections, is a most elaborate one and has been selected with the purpose of giving the various performers opportunity to indicate their versatility. The musical entertainments at the institute have always been a feature of Berkeley society and the general musical world.

There will be a wide range of composition and an unusually large number of performers. Among those who will take part are Miss Tillie Allison, Miss Maud Milton, Miss Ruby Finnerty, the musical and dramatic editor of the new blind students' magazine, "The Stylus"; Miss Marguerite Graham, Miss Margaret Keough, Valentine Miller, Elmer Stover, Everett Deakard, Miss Bernilda Detomoni, Miss Maud Murphy and others. The public is invited.

PIEDMONT IMPROVERS AGAINST $2000 PAY FOR SEWAGE GRANTS

Club Favors Plan to Provide Their Own School Facilities

PIEDMONT, June 5.—Interest in matters vitally affecting the future of this city which were announced to be considered at last night's meeting of the Piedmont Improvement Club resulted in attracting one of the largest assemblies of citizens and property owners ever held under the auspices of the club. Public schools, sanitation and water supply questions were the most important issues brought up for discussion.

Great interest was shown in the matter of providing public school facilities for the children of Piedmont. Since Attorney McElroy of Oakland has an opinion that Piedmont by incorporating as an independent city had some a separate school district, and therefore not entitled to have its children attend the Oakland city schools, the Piedmontese heads of families have decided to provide school facilities for their own.

This determination was voiced by citizens in forcible terms last night. Finally the matter was referred to a committee of three consisting of City Attorney McElroy, and Messrs. Uhl and Hill who were empowered to call a mass meeting in the near future for the purpose of suggesting names of three Piedmont residents to County Superintendent of Schools Erick for appointment as trustees of Piedmont school district.

Oppose Paying $2000.
When it came to consideration of the demand of the City of Oakland for Piedmont to pay $2000 for the further privilege of severing into the Oakland city sewer, those at the meeting denounced. Secretary George Laacko and others told of having tested the outlet sewer used by Piedmont and which connects with the Fourth avenue sewer in Oakland. They said that where the sewer is twelve inches in diameter not above three inches of sewage is carried. This amount is but slightly increased where the sewer is fourteen and sixteen inches in diameter.

It was represented by various speakers that the Piedmont sanitary board had long ago effected an agreement with the City of Oakland whereby for the payment of $5000 the Piedmont sewerage should be carried through the Oakland main sewer in Fourth avenue to its full limit. Such not being the case now the speakers urged that the demand for $2000 more be denounced as premature and unwarranted. The consensus of opinion at the meeting was that Piedmont should not pay anything more to Oakland for sewer privileges at this time.

Water Rates High.
Messrs. Fritchie, D. W. James and F. T. McHenry were appointed a committee to interview the People's Water Committee, as follows: President, C. Q. Rideout; vice-president, William Gorman; secretary-treasurer, Henry C. Barton.

LACK VOTE TO OUST MAYOR

Trustee Fred Connor Said to Have Ambition to Be Berkeley's Head Under the New Charter.

BERKELEY, June 5.—There are three opposing votes to the incumbency of Mayor Ferrier on the board of trustees, according to the city hall political prophets, and these votes are represented by Trustee W. J. Schmidt of the seventh ward, Trustee Nels Olsen of the sixth ward and Trustee Fred W. Connor of the first ward. The plans of this trio, it is said, centered first on the election of Trustee Walter Gompertz of the second ward to the chair, but when Gompertz, because of his relations with Mayor Francis Ferrier, refused the program, it is now proposed to bring forward Trustee Nels Olsen as a candidate for the honor. A preliminary caucus showed that Connor, Schmidt and Olsen, rather than fall in the scheme to depose Ferrier, would cast their ballots for Olsen, but as there are seven votes on the board, one more was necessary to upset the present personnel.

Connor at first believed he could enlist the assistance of Trustee E. L. Fawcett of the fifth ward, but Fawcett demurred when it came to putting Olsen at the head of things.

"I can't vote for Olsen," Fawcett is reported to have said. So it was that Olsen's star has been temporarily eclipsed, and pressure is again being made to have Gompertz consent to accept the votes of the anti-Ferrier faction.

Represents Dry Ward.

The town is amused at the appearance of Connor and Schmidt in the same political street. Connor represents the aristocratic first ward, which comprises the greater portion of what is known as North Berkeley. Ostensibly, he is a "dry" town advocate, and his constituency is one of the strongest centers of the prohibition element. Some time ago his supporters were surprised to find that the real author of the original package ordinance which the license committee was considering, instead of Trustee Olsen, as was currently reported.

Connor is credited now with ambitions to be the first mayor of Berkeley under the new charter, and as catering to the west end, where the population which, though not as numerous as in the east, end votes promptly and its full strength. The new charter mayor will receive $4000 a year instead of $2500 a month, and under the present charter, and will be clothed with autocratic powers in some degree. Connor would, therefore, it is believed, be perfectly willing to upset the present arrangement and see a West Berkeley man in the mayor's chair on the promise of support from that section when his own candidacy for the bigger job came up.

Would Accept Honor.

Meantime Trustee William J. Schmidt is busy making fences in his own behalf. He would take Ferrier's place for various reasons. His political fences in the seventh ward were more or less knocked down the last spring because of the garbage agitation and the incinerator fight.

Complications Ahead.
Schmidt has become nettled over the action of Mayor Ferrier in supporting his long-time political enemy, Thomas L. Dowd, for library trustee and it's anybody's guess when he will accept any ally from him. Alameda a flat minimum rate of $1 a month is charged, and in Berkeley $1.50 a month, that in Piedmont the minimum charge is $2 a month. It was further set forth that the minimum rate was collected only in winter when little water is used, and that in summer metre rates are charged whereby monthly bills of from $5 to $7 are charged for water.

The advisory board of the club will present a petition to the postoffice department for free postal delivery in Piedmont. Heretofore the residents have been compelled to pay 6 cents a month for mail delivery at each residence.

FALLING OFF IN INHERITANCE TAX
Collections This Year Are $100,000 Less Than the Receipts in 1906-07.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 5.—Figures compiled by State Controller Nye show that collections of inheritance tax from the estates of deceased persons for the year just closed are about $100,000 less than last year. The collections last year were about $700,000, while this year the grand total foots only $600,000. Last year the tax was advanced materially by the receipt of $150,000 from the estate of Mrs. Leland Stanford. The largest income this year was from the estate of F. H. Rindge of Los Angeles, amounting to $102,451. Of the $68,943 collected this year $150,000 will go into the school fund, the remainder into the general fund.

"I was always afraid of Bert and he knew it. He treated me brutally on the road. Frequently he pinched me on the arm and turned my wrist."

"He wanted to get a revolver before we started on the road but I prevented him. On several occasions he wanted to choke me when he was in a bad humor, to stop me from talking to other people."

"He was madly jealous and that is the whole cause of the trouble. I always liked Bert and I will say I like him yet, I feel bad for him."

FAMED SCULPTOR OF EARLY DAYS IS DEAD

W. H. GUY.

ALAMEDA, June 5.—The world of art and Bohemia will be shocked to hear of the death of William Henry Guy, a sculptor whose work has left a serious and lasting impression on the modern schools.

Mr. Guy died yesterday morning of pneumonia at a home of his daughter, Jean Guy, at a home of his daughter, Jean Guy, at a home of his daughter, Jean Guy.

Mr. Guy was also the father of Miss Jean Guy and Mrs. James E. Deandry, of Oakland, and James L. Guy.

William H. Guy achieved a distinction which almost amounted to fame many years ago, and he was a well-known figure in art circles in the early days. His interpretation of western as well as classic subjects attracted the attention of art critics the world over. He was born in Ireland 69 years ago.

JUDGE TAPPAN DENOUNCES CHARGES AS WHOLLY FALSE

ALAMEDA, June 5.—The ranks of the Civic League, which have been prosecuting small gamblers and pool sellers, have been torn wide open by a sensational incident which occurred late yesterday afternoon in securing the jury to try William Zings, charged with selling pools on the races.

Starting Accusations.

While examining A. J. Thompson, 2331 Eagle avenue, a well known real estate man of San Francisco, who has lived in Alameda ten years, Attorney Lin Church, who is assisting City Attorney Simpson in the prosecution, brought out several startling accusations from the defendant. When asked whether he had any opinion which might prevent him from giving a fair and unbiased opinion in the case Thompson said that he had, but when pressed to express it he refused to do so at first, asking the court whether it was necessary.

Talks of Collusion.

Judge St. Sure, attorney for the defense, then insisted that the court order Mr. Thompson to express himself. Thompson then said very firmly, "From what I have seen of this case so far in the examination of the other jurors and in the attitude and conduct of the attorneys both for the defense and prosecution, and the demeanor of the court itself toward the jurors and toward the attorneys, I am satisfied that there is a collusion here not to convict the defendant, William Zings. Some pretty peculiar things have happened under the surface, I think, and I believe the attorneys for the prosecution are not sincere and that they are not trying to get a jury that will convict the defendant."

Judge Tappan was aroused. He rose from his seat as white as a sheet and, extending his arm, pointed his shaking finger in Thompson's face.

The Court Indignant.

"I wish every man, woman and child in Alameda could hear me now," said the judge, his voice trembling with emotion. "I have known the attorneys both for the defense and the prosecution since they were boys. I have been associated with nearly all of them in different cases. I have known them both on and off of the bench, and I know that they are honorable gentlemen. I have been associated with these attorneys in some cases and I have eaten dinner with them, and during our meal none of them have ever dared to mention a case at trial."

"I have lived in this community a

ANSWERS IN $10,000 SUIT

G. W. Emmons, Wealthy Drayman,
Gives Defi to M. Meyer in Alleged Collision of Auto
With Buggy.

George W. Emmons, prominent drayman of San Francisco, and wealthy resident of Alameda, has filed an answer to the suit for $10,000 damages which was brought against him by William M. Meyer. Meyer, in his complaint, claimed that Emmons, while driving an automobile between Cleveland and Highland Springs on the 21st of last year, collided with his buggy and that as the result of the smash-up he and his wife were injured. Meyer further avers that Emmons swore at him and beat him with a whip. Emmons, in his answer, places the blame on Meyer. He denies each and every allegation of the plaintiff and then goes on to tell his version of the story. The defendant says that he was driving his auto along a road in Sonoma county which runs along the Russian river. His wife and daughters were with him in the auto. The day was hot and the roads were dusty, according to Emmons, and he was endeavoring to cover as much ground as possible in the least time possible.

Prevented Passing.

Emmons says that he caught up with Meyer and his wife, who were driving in a buggy. He signalled to the vehicle that he desired to pass, he says, but Meyer refused to allow him to pass. He claims that Meyer zig-zagged his buggy along the road for several miles and would not permit the auto to pass him. Emmons claims that if Meyer had stopped for a moment that he, Emmons, could have passed.

Emmons says that finally Meyer stopped and backed his buggy into the auto, and then, only by great skill at the wheel did he prevent a serious collision. As it was, he claims, the auto lamps only were broken and that no other damage was done.

Emmons asserts that Meyer's action in zig-zagging his buggy along the road caused his wife and daughters, and himself, great harassment and annoyance, so that the former were "overwrought and almost hysterical." Emmons says that when he did succeed in passing the vehicle that he believed that he had been outrageously treated and slighted from his machine and demanded an apology from Meyer.

Meyer, Emmons says, became defiant and told him that "he had resolved to stay in and keep said road as long as he pleased and that the defendant could go to—"

Meyer tried to strike him with his whip and that he, Emmons, in self-defense, took the whip away.

Lace Makers Open Exhibition

Next Monday, June 8th

Three Irish lassies, Misses Rose Egan, Mary O'Mahoney and Mary Kate Davoren, from the School of Industry at Loughlin County Reformatory, Ireland, will be at Hale's for two weeks, where they will show how to make the "Baby" Irish, Point, Carrickmacross, and Irish Crochet Laces that are used on the most costly garments. Rev. Father O'Mahoney, under whose direction this work is done, will be at the exhibition most of the time and will be pleased to give information concerning the work. The exhibition is free, and commences next Monday.

The object of this American tour is to interest Americans in laces, fine cloths, linen paper and other goods made in Ireland. Father O'Mahoney's work is doing a great deal in stimulating the demand for Irish goods.

This interesting and attractive exhibition will be held on the third floor, where you may see the lace makers at work all day, and see Irish goods of every description on display in the show cases; some on display only, others for sale at low prices.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

Pulls so Hard on the Stomach it Must Have Help.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country makes stomach troubles. Five people suffer today where one did ten years ago with sick headache, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of three in Oakland and other towns, should use Ml-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Ml-o-na.

So reliable is Ml-o-na that leading druggists with every 50-cent box they sell, give a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy cures.

Miss Ella Frances Miller Becomes Bride of Frank Grace.

ALAMEDA, June 5.—A large number of guests witnessed the most important church wedding of the year in Alameda last night, when Miss Ella Frances Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Miller of Santa Clara avenue became the bride of Frank Grace, of Berkeley, at the First Congregational Church.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Mr. L. Potter Hitchcock. The interior of the church was prettily decorated by the young friends of the bride.

Miss Ella Naylor was maid of honor, and Robert Miller acted as best man. Although no date has been set for the wedding, so far as is publicly known, it is believed that it will probably take place in the spring. A tea was given to announce the engagement to friends of the family.

THE DIFFERENCE.

During his curate days, Dr. Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury, once took charge of a Sunday school class. The subject of the day's lesson was Solomon, and after the lesson he proceeded to catechise the children. "Tell me, boys," he said, "what was the difference between Solomon and other men?" No answer. "Come, come!" said the future archbishop, "was there any difference, for instance, between King Solomon and myself?" A tiny hand went up, and a tiny voice replied, "Please, sir, Solomon was wise!"—Bellman.

Not to Be Determined on Contests.

It would be exceedingly unfortunate for the Republican party for the Presidential nomination to be decided by the issue of contests in Southern Democratic States in which there is not the remotest chance of Republican electors being returned. But that is apparently the last hope and resort of the allied opposition to Secretary Taft. If the eleven sure Democratic States in the South were denied representation in the Chicago convention Taft would have a decisive majority over all the other candidates combined. He has not only a majority of the delegates from the North and West, but he is backed by a large majority of the sure Republican States. He has Ohio, West Virginia, Connecticut, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Kansas, Utah, Wyoming, Oregon, California, Washington, Idaho, Colorado and Nebraska and votes in New York and every State of New England. The allied opposition cannot show anything like such an array of strength in Republican States nor a support so widely and strategically distributed.

The pretense that the contests instituted against Taft delegates in the South are a protest against the disfranchisement of colored voters is a barren one. Seating the contesting delegates will not remove the political disabilities imposed upon the Negroes by Democratic Legislature. It will merely emphasize the wrong of permitting sure Democratic States to dictate the Republican Presidential nomination. Taft can win without the Southern States in which the colored vote is impotent. His opponents are powerless unless they can unseat Taft delegates in those States and give their places to bolting and irregularly elected delegates antagonistic to him because of race and patronage grievances.

It will be a bad thing for the Republican candidate, whether it be Taft or someone else (and they are all honorable men), to allow juggle of contests in the Democratic South to determine who shall be the nominee. That question should be determined by a majority of the regularly elected delegates from Republican and doubtful States. By that wholesome and just rule of political propriety Taft will be nominated without hindrance on the first ballot.

The defeat of Governor Hoke Smith for renomination in Georgia is a hopeful sign. Smith represented extreme radicalism and sectionalism, while his opponent, Joseph M. Brown, son of the late Senator Brown, is a conservative man more in accord with the spirit of nationalism. Mr. Brown was opposed to Smith two years ago, but was overwhelmingly beaten in the primaries, only carrying a handful of counties. A trial of Smith has evidently caused the Democrats of Georgia to reverse their former verdict and to revise their opinions in regard to men and measures.

The Treasury Statement and Politics.

The Government treasury statement just issued is not pleasant reading. For the eleven months of the current fiscal year the receipts are shown to have aggregated $546,407,150, and the disbursements $610,010,755, leaving a deficit for the eleven months of $63,603,605. The statement also shows that the receipts for the last eleven months were $56,187,522 less than for the corresponding period last year, and the expenditures $72,467,046 greater, leaving a net difference in eleven months of $128,654,568.

This is not a good campaign asset. While the deficit is merely the reflection of temporary and abnormal financial conditions, it will be made the most of by Democratic orators and organs during the coming Presidential campaign, and unless there should be a sharp reaction for the better between now and November it will be an effective argument on the stump. Taken in connection with financial stringency, business depression and large numbers of workmen out of employment, it will be a decided handicap for the Republican party.

These are facts that the party managers will have to face no matter who is nominated for President. Had Congress made the full appropriations asked for in the military and naval estimates there would be a still greater difference between receipts and disbursements—on paper at least. It is undeniable that the expenditures of the government are heavy, but the increase was an inevitable result of the rapid growth of the country and the enlarged demands for every branch of the public service. Desert land reclamation, river and harbor improvements, coast defenses, extension of rural mail delivery, Panama canal construction, increases in our naval establishment—all necessary and popular—have absorbed vast sums, which were never missed till the revenues began to fall off heavily at a time when financial and business depression set in.

As long as the revenues exceeded all demands on the treasury the people were satisfied, and Democratic criticisms of the gross expense of conducting the government fell on deaf ears. But the situation has changed radically within the last few months. The large financial interests have become restive and uneasy, and the threat of tariff revision at an extra session of Congress has provoked discord and dissatisfaction among the protected manufacturers. There is likely to be lukewarmness, if not actual revolt, in many quarters if the campaign is not diplomatically managed and no further alarm added to the uneasiness over the financial situation.

If the new currency law, which Senator La Follette and a few Democratic coadjutors strove so hard to defeat, accomplishes what is expected of it, money will be much easier after July 1, and there will be a general resumption of activity in manufacturing and railroad building. A large proportion of the men now out of employment will go back to work, and a more cheerful and confident tone imparted to business. In that case, the Democratic powder will be dampened before it is burned and the sailing will be plain for Republican success in November. It is well, however, to be prepared for the worst, and to be in a position to meet every charge of the enemy. The administrative and legislative record of the Republican party has been splendid; the country has wonderfully prospered under Republican rule; great reforms have been accomplished and great public enterprises carried to a successful conclusion. Republicans can face the facts with pride and confidence. Despite the temporary depression of the last few months, this country is the most prosperous and best governed on earth, and its people are enjoying the greatest measure of comfort, peace and plenty any nation has ever known. No passing condition can wipe out the magnificent record of Republican accomplishment or destroy the splendid edifice of prosperity erected by Republican statesmanship.

The Democrats of Arkansas seem to have shaken off the influence of Jeff Davis, who was for many years the political dictator of the Bear State. They turned him down hard for delegate to the Denver convention. Hoke Smith has just been defeated for renomination in Georgia, and in Mississippi James K. Vardaman was rejected for Senator in favor of John Sharp Williams. Poor white radicalism appears to be on the decline in the South.

If Heney really desires to preserve Gallagher's testimony he might put quicklime on it. But what does he propose to do with Gallagher—send him out of the country?

It appears that Congressman Hull was not defeated for renomination in the Iowa primaries, as was at first reported by the Associated Press. He has won out by a shoestring plurality, and will probably be returned to the seat in Congress he has so long honored.

CONTESTING DELEGATIONS ARE GIVEN A HEARING

Republican National Committee Begins Important Task

CHICAGO, June 5.—The Taft delegation from Alabama will be seated.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The Republican national committee met today at 10 o'clock in the annex to the auditorium to consider the contests for seats as delegates in the national convention. The committee's decision, when favorable to claims of delegates, will entitle them to seats on the temporary roll-call.

Nearly all the members of the national committee have arrived and it was intended to push the hearings as rapidly as possible.

Alabama Contest.

The first contest to come before the committee was that of Alabama, whose entire delegation is contested. It had been arranged yesterday that the district contests should be consolidated into one with the State at large, and it was believed probable that all of the evidence would be heard within four hours. The consideration of the testimony, it was expected, would occupy the committee for the remainder of the day.

The former headquarters, which it was announced yesterday would be opened in the Great Western Hotel, did not materialize according to schedule, but Charles L. Murta of Columbus, Ohio, made his appearance as the representative of the Ohio senator.

Boom of Senator Knox.

The boom of Senator Knox of Pennsylvania was scheduled for official launching today on the arrival of Representative James F. Burke of Pittsburgh.

223 Seats Involved.

There were contests to be heard affecting 223 seats, the number having been diminished by six because of the failure of three contesting districts to qualify.

Proxies for Taft.

No sooner was the committee room door closed than it was raised about that Frank Hitchcock, the Taft manager, had gone inside with the proxy of Solomon Luna of New Mexico. This discovery was followed by another, that Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, a Taft supporter, held the proxy of Henry D. McCoy of the Philippines, and Arthur P. Slater of the State of Washington held the proxy of John J. Hele of Alaska. Mr. Slater was employed by the Taft campaign management.

Anti-Taft Men Alarmed.

The presence of so many Taft managers caused a noticeable stir in the camp of the anti-Taft men, and the protests were vehement a few minutes later when it was learned that Alexander McKenzie, the member from North Dakota, had failed to appear. Charles G. Phelps showed up with the McKenzie proxy and took a seat in the committee room. Inquiry disclosed the fact that Mr. Phelps also is an employee of the anti-Taft headquarters and has just been transferred from Washington to Chicago. Senator Knox Manages Protests.

Representative James F. Burke of Pittsburgh, manager for Senator Knox.

HARRY STEWART, CHAIRMAN OF THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

made a formal protest against Hitchcock, Slater and Phelps being permitted to sit as members of the committee. His protest was as follows:

"We formally protest against being compelled to submit the merits of our contest to the Republican National Committee as at present constituted in this meeting. First, for the reason that Frank H. Hitchcock has been directly interested in the management of the campaign of one whose cause is directly involved and is therefore disqualified to sit in judgment in this case; second, because the said Frank Hitchcock professes to represent the territory of New Mexico, of which territory he is not a resident nor a qualified voter, nor the regular nor properly chosen national committee man from the said territory and therefore not qualified to sit in this case. The protest in regard to Phelps and Slater was identical, except that they were termed employees instead of managers. At 12:35 o'clock Secretary Dover of the Attorney Accused of Taking Pawn Tickets as Fee and Then Failing to Appear for Defendant.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—"I paid him $3 and gave him pawn tickets for my violin, my seventeen-jeweled watch and a plain gold wedding ring, and yet he fails to appear to defend me," was the piteous appeal made to the court by John Erdman, charged with a misdemeanor offense, who was to be placed on trial in Judge Shortall's court at 9 o'clock this morning.

The person referred to was Attorney Horace Ford, and that lawyer had been retained, according to Erdman, to represent him during a jury trial.

Fifty business men who had been summoned on the panel anxiously shifted in their seats and nervously awaited the coming of the defendant's counsel, but he did not appear, and when the prisoner was questioned by the court he replied with the above statement.

Erdman pleaded guilty to the charge against him, and as he had been in jail for fourteen days already, the court sentenced him to forty days in the county jail. The talemans were then dismissed, and a bench warrant issued for the arrest of Ford on a charge of contempt of court, with bonds fixed at $1000.

Accused by Boys.

The same attorney again leaped into National Committee announced that the protests against Hitchcock, Slater and Phelps had been laid on the table without division. It was the sentiment of the committee that it could not inquire into the validity of proxies regularly executed by a member of the national committee.

The first case taken up by the committee was that of the State of Alabama, the State-at-large and district contests being consolidated. Four hours for arguments in this case were allowed.

Will Meet Every Day. The committee is to meet each day at 10 o'clock in the morning. The contests will be taken up in alphabetical order.

pronounced in the same department of the police court a little later in the morning during the hearing of a charge of grand larceny in which defendants are Lellie Phillips and Joseph D. Sparrow, mere boys. They are charged with having stolen three billiard balls from the St. James Hotel, and when their case was called they said that the balls had been given to them in Los Angeles.

Questioned more closely the lady admitted that they had been instructed to sell this story by their counsel, Attorney Ford, and when Judge Shortall inquired further into the case, Phillips explained that Sparrow, his companion, had nothing to do with the theft and that he himself was willing to plead guilty, if necessary, to petty larceny.

The court accordingly dismissed the case against Sparrow and Phillips will come up again next Friday.

The actions of the attorney representing the defendants in both these cases has aroused the ire of some of the legal practitioners in the police court there is talk of bringing the affair before the Bar Association in an effort to call Ford to an accounting.

THE TRIBUNE automobile ride to be given for the children of the West Oakland Home has occasioned a great deal of gratitude among the members of the home, and every little tot is anticipating a delightful outing. Mrs. I. A. Boretta, president of the association, presided at the recent business meeting, when plans were discussed for the great outing. June 11. It is also planned to take the little folks to camp in Trestle Glen for the summer vacation.

The members of the West Oakland Home are at present busy preparing for their annual fête to be held at Idola Park on Saturday, June 20. In addition to the theater and usual attractions, there will be booths where fancy articles, ice cream and various good things will be on sale. Mrs. Wm. Westphal will have charge of the fortune telling booth and will be assisted by several clever palmists. Mrs. H. D. Mehmman will serve ice cream, and with her will be Mrs. Charles Heesman, Mrs. W. A. Schrock, Mrs. F. C. Winton, Mrs. W. H. Y. Matthews, Mrs. Arthur Cunningham, Miss Lou Curtis, Miss Eda Curtis and Miss Katherine Gray.

FOR BRIDES-ELECT.
Mrs. Emma Chase entertained recently at a dinner for Miss Marietta Havens, the fiancée of Paul Dinsmore, and Miss Ruth Knowles, whose marriage with Henry Lord Chase will be a June event. The affair was given at the Claremont Country Club and covers were laid for half a dozen guests.

MRS. HAMBLETON'S SCHOOL.
Invitations are out for the summer exercises of Mrs. M. S. Hambleton's private school, to be held at Ebell hall, Harrison street, above Port Costa, on Friday evening, June 12, at 8 o'clock, when Mrs. Hambleton will present her pupils in "The Spirit of Freedom," a continental military drama in rhyme.

WEDDING CARDS.
Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson Corwin have sent out cards for the marriage of their daughter, Esther Jeffries, to Horace Glen Johnson, which will take place Thursday evening, June 18, at the First Baptist Church, on Telegraph avenue and Jones street.

LUNCHEON HOSTESS.
Miss Stella McKeonnie was hostess at a luncheon given in honor of the girls of a graduation class of June '08 at her home in Berkeley. The hours were passed in music and singing.

Those who enjoyed the luncheon were: Mrs. M. Scott, Mrs. E. Jones, Mrs. Alice Mason, Leona Oberg, Janet Pearson, Helen Rine Ester Stephens, Caro Bass, Evelyn Hall, Mercedes Howell, Alice Penn, Annie Carlson, Mrs. E. Kathryn Baxter, Josephine Burbank, Alice Andre and the hostess.

INFORMAL TEA.
Mrs. Ernest Mendenhall was hostess yesterday at an informal tea given for Mrs. Wilbur Gracey, who is a visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. Charles G. Yale, in Piedmont. Mrs. Gracey arrived recently from China, where her husband is in the diplomatic service. Their marriage took place nearly two years ago and this is the first visit to home and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Gracey will enjoy a stay here and are then to proceed eastward for a visit on the Atlantic Coast before going to Europe. They will travel leisurely and plan to return to China by way of Siberia.

Mrs. Mendenhall's tea given yesterday for Mrs. Gracey is the first of a series of affairs planned for the popular young matron. The hostess was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Mendenhall and Mrs. E. L. Moseley.

OFF FOR YOSEMITE.
A merry party of young people chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Risdon Mead, left yesterday for the Yosemite valley, where they will spend two weeks. MISS RUSSELL'S TEA.
Miss Gertrude Russell will entertain for Miss Engracia Critcher, not for Mrs. Critch as was erroneously stated. Miss Russell is to be one of the attendants at the wedding of Miss Critcher and Lieutenant Freyer, and will be hostess at one of the most elaborate affairs for the charming bride-elect. The tea will be given June 20 at the Russell home in this city, and half a hundred of the younger set will meet Miss Critcher, who is one of the attractive debutantes in San Francisco society.

Miss Russell will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Russell, and half a dozen close friends in receiving her guests.

SOCIETY NOTES.
Mrs. John Ross and Mrs. E. A. Kuegel left Thursday morning for Yosemite. They will remain the month of June. This evening at 8 o'clock in the First M. E. Church, Fourteenth and Clay streets, the people of Oakland will have the opportunity of hearing Rev. G. W. White, D. D., deliver a lecture on "The Black Napoleon." Dr. White has given this lecture at many of our churches and fifty times in California and is well qualified to give an account of Toussaint L'Ouverture's life.

The lecture is free. A silver offering will be taken in behalf of the work of the Woman's Home Missionary Society. Edgar Sinclair will arrive in town Sunday and go to Calistoga for a vacation, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Edgar Sinclair, and sister, Mrs. Mabel Stephens. Mrs. M. P. Crighton entertained yesterday at a luncheon and card party given for the members of a club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Rasmussen have closed their home on the Boulevard and have gone to Slims in Shasta county, where they will spend the summer.

Miss Miriam Elizer and Miss Alice Barnett have formed a walking club and a number of young people are among the members.

James Buchanan will spend part of June as the house guest of friends in Monterey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eide are settled in their new Elbert home, where they will spend the summer.

TOWN IS FORBIDDEN EVER TO OPEN STREET.
Superior Judge Melvin has ordered the town of Berkeley never to commence proceedings again to open or extend Regent street in Berkeley. Mrs. Noah H. Webster commenced proceedings against Berkeley recently, seeking to quiet title to the land through which a west street was to have been opened and extended. Berkeley filed a demurrer to the suit, but this was overruled by Judge Melvin and the town is perpetually enjoined from further proceedings.

ANNA HELD EXPLAINS STRINGENCY OF MONEY

According to Anna Held, the actress, who declares she has studied the question in its every detail, the recent financial upheaval was brought about through the amazing extravagance of American women who, she declared, burn money in a manner that would have excited the envy of the fabulously rich spendthrift rulers of ages ago.

Kiss WHICH IS SAID Saved A Life and Won A Bride

Romantic to a degree was the manner in which the famous Italian author, Edmondo de Amicis, who has just died, won his wife. De Amicis, who began his career as a soldier, was a writer who encouraged his fellow countrymen with sympathy, and gave them ideals well within the reach of the humblest. When still a very young man he received a message from a lady on the point of death, expressing the desire to kiss the hand of the author whose works had given her such

Where Woman Reigns

$10 A DAY JOBS FOR WOMEN, YET PLACES ARE NOT SOUGHT

NEW YORK—There are several jobs in New York for women that are "going begging." The work pays $10 a week, and in some instances over $100 per week, yet there is practically no one to take up the occupation. "There are only three women in New York who do this work, which is embalming," said the night manager of Campbell's undertaking establishment the other evening. "These three are kept so busy that we are compelled, in numerous cases, to confess our inability to comply with the wishes of patrons who prefer women embalmers, and so we have to intrust the work to men instead." "It is really much easier than nursing in a hospital," said one man, "for the embalming methods of the present day are very simple. But where there are thousands of women who are anxious to become nurses, they do not want to do this work. Indeed, the 'laying out' that a nurse must do if her patient dies is far more disagreeable than anything a woman embalmer has to do. "We men find it hard properly to dress bodies or to fasten bows as they should be, whereas this work comes so natural to women. Then, again, a woman can show a greater amount of sympathy for the bereaved relatives than a man is capable of doing."

Should Women Vote?

"A woman is only a woman,"
Quite often some men we hear say;
"Of course, it is nothing but human
To let her have, sometimes, her way."

"We call her the 'fair' and the 'gentle,'
But really, she is very vain,
Is easily moved, sentimental—
No, we cannot rely on her brain."

"At home she can do all the ruling,
And men, no less, volens, obtemper;
But out in the world—don't be fooling—
She shall never have something to say."

"She is changeable, just like the weather;
Her will is as weak as her mind;
A gown, a hat, a rich feather
And candy will make her be blind."

"To all our defects and our passions,
Ridiculous! Women should vote?
They will much sooner follow the fashions;
The bargains in papers they'll note."

We've listened to your accusations;
Now give us a chance to reply;
You men have misused much our patience.
There is no use, of course, to deny.

Certain truths. You should, though, consider,
If you are so wise and so strong—
If you are the head and the leader—
You do us a terrible wrong.

By keeping us back from progressing,
'Steal of helping, and being our guide.
Our sphere is becoming too narrow;
We want it to be broad and wide.

Come, brother, let's join all together.
Assist us. You will be repaid.
With ease we shall climb up the Ladder
Of Life through our mutual aid.

MRS. J. J. ASTOR'S

Directoire Gowns

LONDON.—Mrs. John Jacob Astor, who has been shopping in Paris, has returned with an exquisite wardrobe, designed in the much discussed Directoire style. "They" fit her to perfection; Worth and Doucet have expended hours upon them and the result is creations of rare beauty.

Congo Parasol Latest

PARIS.—It is not often that Paris gets its fashion ideas from the Congo, but this is true of the latest style in sunshades. This week four of the principal houses in Paris sent models to the race course supplied with sunshades, the handles of which were composed of a combination of pampas grass and precious jewels.

The grass is woven in native African style on a light bamboo base, then studded with pearls, sapphires and emeralds, refreshing. The linen of the parasol itself is embroidered with grass in a variety of fancy designs. Some parasols are so richly adorned that the price runs to thousands of dollars.

The fashion was inaugurated by the young administrator of the Congo colony, who sent a number of grass handled

Countess Szechenyi

Must Have Periodical Flutter in London or Paris

LONDON.—Countess Szechenyi has been putting her little foot down decidedly regarding a matter affecting her future. As she herself expressed it, she "is not going to spend her whole time in a rambling old palace miles from anywhere." When she was here on her honeymoon she expressed herself strongly in favor of a London house. Gladys says that the countess is all right and she is much in love with him, but, she adds, "love, if strained, can fly quite as expeditiously out of the window of a palace as out of a cottage."

The countess's womenkind are pleasant, slow, dowdy ladies, whose ideas of dress do not go much beyond the national costume. They never read novels or fashionable newspapers, and they do their own housekeeping and cooking. They have shocked absolutely the countess's smart French maid, who has given her mistress notice several times lately. This is the last straw for the new countess. Her sister-in-law must let his wife have a periodical flutter in London or Paris.

This case recalls that of Daisy Cornwallis West, sister of the duchess of Devonshire, who married Prince Henry of Pleiss, now the prince of Pleiss. He thought, too, to shut her up in a wonderful palace in Silesia. But she rebelled. The Kaiser came to the rescue of the prince and talked a great deal to the sprightly Irish girl about "being dutiful" and obeying her husband. To his imperial majesty Daisy replied that she was not going to "rust or vegetate," and that she intended to spend every season and every autumn in England whether the Kaiser and her husband wished it or not. She had her way. The Kaiser was furious, but Prince Henry of Pleiss smiled and handed his wife the checks—Daisy had not a penny of her own.

for making her fellow women look "small" and insignificant as Mrs. Astor. This is the result not so much of her leave as of her "style." Whether it is because she is so decorative and so fascinating it is hard to tell. People literally fight to secure her presence at their parties. Duchess will postpone their festivities in order to give her a chance of appearing. She is often followed about a room in London by a miniature crowd. Yet she is the quietest, demurest of women, with nothing of the "go" and vivacity which makes her compatriots popular.

The gossip says that Robert Hichens is posing her for the heroine of his forthcoming novel.

Billie Burke Is Inveterate Shopper

Billie Burke, the pretty little actress, passes most of her spare time shopping. She is the most inevitable little "buyer" one could imagine. She is fond of unique jewelry, and it is said she spends much of her salary on old-fashioned pins and rings.

"They make me look quaint," she says, frankly, "and I like to be that way. Anybody can be stylish."

LONDON, June 5.—Mrs. Van Zandt, who is Lord Avebury's daughter, has two girls. The latter claim their right to American citizenship because their late father was a member of a Knickerbocker family. Their week ends will be enjoyed at their delightful cottage in Kent. There, in an old world garden, with the hop fields in the distance, these girls have the time of their lives. They are extremely domesticated. Know how to milk cows, make butter, etc. Their great idea of bliss is to become lady gardeners or poultry farmers. However, their grandfathers, Lord Avebury, and their mother have a word to say in the matter, so they find themselves, much to their disgust, in Mayfair drawing-rooms wearing Louis XV. shoes instead of tramping through lanes in Kent in brogans.

Both girls are nice looking, bright, and full of vivacity. They have had tutors galore, I hear. At the moment they have vowed to remain single, as they never wish to be separated. But as one

HENRY M. FLAGLER'S WIFE AIDS IN CARE OF HIS FIRST SPOUSE, WHO IS NOW HOPELESSLY INSANE

SURROUNDED BY EVERY COMFORT MONEY CAN BUY

A very pathetic incident occurred in the rotunda of the palatial Ponce de Leon Hotel at St. Augustine, Fla. The day was Sunday and the guests of the hotel were gathered around the spacious hall listening to the strains of the semi-sacred music that floated in from the courtyard where the Flagler band was playing. Suddenly a slight, well-dressed, good-looking woman made her way through the throng and glided into the center of the rotunda, gracefully dancing and swaying over the floor softly singing. Says Human Life, At first the staid assembly was inclined to be shocked, then surprise and consternation came over their faces, for the woman's words reached their ears. "I am Mrs. Flagler," she was saying. "Nearly every one present knew that Henry M. Flagler had divorced an insane wife and none present had ever seen her. Had she escaped? Was this she?" was the thought that was on every one's mind. It was an hour before a physician from the city hospital could induce the woman, whoever she was, to depart with him.

The incident recalled the tragedy in the life of the aged millionaire, whose domestic and matrimonial experiences have left a deep scar upon his life. In a superb mansion on Riverside Drive, New York, lives Mrs. Ida Shourds Flagler, the hopelessly insane first wife of this man who in his seventy-ninth year has built a railway across the Florida Keys. It is not every millionaire who can make a State legislature lay down, roll over and eat out of the hand, even though he contribute to the upbuilding of the State. But Mr. Flagler was able to have a special act of the Florida legislature passed which enabled him to divorce the woman whose relations loaned him the $10,000 to go into partnership with John D. Rockefeller many years ago. Dr. Carlos McDonald, the alienist, declared Mrs. Flagler incurable and the legislature obliged. Popular opinion was so aroused and adverse to the act that, after the divorce was granted, the solons of the State flip-flopped and repealed the law. Mr. Flagler settled $2,000,000 upon his insane wife, surrounded her by every comfort, a corps of nurses and every luxury possible. Then he married the beautiful Mary Lily Kennan of North Carolina. The first Mrs. Flagler, it is said, imagined that she is Princess Ida Alice Van Shoten Teck, affianced wife of the Czar of Russia. Believing herself a young girl she spends hours preparing for the arrival of her lover. In her home on Riverside Drive everything is done to divert and amuse her. Professional entertainers play to her. The opinion of Mrs. Flagler is very solicitous of her comfort and supervises her household.

In Florida Mrs. Flagler's young wife is extremely popular. She entertains lavishly at the beautiful estate, Whitehall, at Palm Beach, and in their palatial home at St. Augustine and also at Mamaroneck, Westchester county, New York. She is a woman of charming grace and comes from an aristocratic old Southern family.

LOVE LETTER HELD RACE SUICIDE PACT

CHICAGO.—The trial of Miss Anna B. Whitmore, the pretty postmistress at Gray's Lake, on the charge of opening the Rev. Charles Haveren's mail and gossiping the secrets of his love affair with Miss Mary Calvin, of Fort Wayne, caused bushes in Commissioner Foote's courtroom. Half the village and most of the members of the Congregational Church were present.

News of Feminine Interest

Miss Calvin testified that Miss Whitmore said to her: "Mr. Haveren and his lady friend are going into the race suicide business when they marry." Miss Smith circulated the story until it came to the ears of the preacher. He learned that it came from the postmistress, and forthwith had her arrested. "It is true I did write Miss Calvin that it would be better that we have no children. She has musical aspirations and my salary is only $300 a year and I did not think we could afford children. This communication was in a sealed letter. Miss Whitmore testified that she did not open any letters and never told Miss Smith anything about race suicide. She was acquitted.

Defamer Punished By Woman With Baseball and Whip

DES MOINES.—Mrs. Ida Phillips clubbed her uncle, J. West Martin, a horseman, almost into insensibility with a baseball bat in the street yesterday while scores of men and women, several of whom took a hand in the beating, looked on.

Mrs. Phillips came from her home as Martin was passing. After several sharp blows between the shoulders and, overtaking him, laid the lash on his head with all her strength. Whip broke and she used the butt. Mrs. Phillips slains Martin. He threatened her husband and criticised her own character.

WILL LOOK INTO THE TARIFF

Senate's Finance Committee to Take Up Subject About Middle of July--Date to Be Announced Later by Senator Aldrich.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Senate committee on finance, which was authorized to make an investigation of the tariff during the recess of Congress to be in readiness to take up a review of the tariff next winter, will hold its first meeting for this purpose about the middle of July. The exact date has not been fixed, but will be announced by Chairman Aldrich about July 1. The committee will assemble at some cool resort, probably in New England, and will outline the work to be done.

It will be necessary to secure a large amount of information concerning interpretations of the present tariff law, both by the courts and by the board of appraisers, which will involve a sub-committee. It has not yet been decided when hearings will be held. Some time in November probably will be fixed for that purpose.

BUTTONS A CLUE

On the Track of Murderer of Mrs. Grauner—Suspicion Is Turning Toward Her Former Husband, Paul Kruse.

APPLETON, Wis., June 5.—District Attorney Rooney, Dr. Cooney and Police Officer Baker today searched the home of Mrs. Minnie Gruenert, in which her lifeless body was discovered on Wednesday. They found a partly eaten rye-bread cheese sandwich which had been hidden in the basement of the house. The bread and cheese seemed quite fresh.

This discovery, the officers believe, shows that someone besides Mrs. Gruenert was in the burned home on Wednesday. Buttons Match. The supposition is that the slayer of the woman killed her and then suspended her dead body from a hat-rack look in a little closet in the hall to hide the murder and to give the appearance of suicide. It is said that a vest button was found in the closet, matching the buttons on the vest worn by Paul Kruse, a former husband of the woman, and that one button is missing from that vest.

SAID HE WAS BEING HOUNDED TO DEATH

Dr. Craig Was Despondent Because of Dental Board

Driven to desperation through fear of approaching poverty and taking deeply to heart the fact that he was unable to meet the demands of the State Board of Dental Examiners in the payment of a fine said to have been recently assessed against him, Dr. W. H. Craig, for over thirty years a practicing dentist of this city, wearily climbed his way to the top floor of the Masonic Temple, Twelfth and Washington streets, yesterday and fired a bullet into his brain.

His lifeless body was found last night by Frank W. Blizer, a fellow Mason and Robert Evans, janitor of the building. Life had been extinct for at least six hours. The body was taken to the morgue.

High in Masonry.

Dr. Craig, who was high in the offices of the Masonic order, committed the tragic act in the armory of the building where he had on numerous occasions been a leader in the deliberations and social gatherings of the members. He held the position of eminent commander of the Oakland Commandery of Masons and was an influential worker in Masonic circles throughout the State.

In 1903 he headed the great Masonic parade in San Francisco. It was in the midst of surroundings which reminded him forebodingly of the better days when he was influential socially and financially that he ended his life.

Said He Was Hounded.

Dr. Craig, who had his living rooms as well as his offices in the Haystack Block, Fifteenth street and Broadway, had, according to the statement of Dr. R. Harms of the Macdonough building, said but two days ago that he was being hounded to death by the State Board of Dental Examiners.

That he had been contemplating taking his life for some time past is evidenced by the statement of Dr. Harms, of the effect that Dr. Craig had asked him for some cyanide of potassium with which he intended to poison himself.

to end a life that was proving a burden to him.

Wanted Poison.

"Dr. Craig was in my office a few days ago," said Dr. Harms this morning, "and was deeply despondent. He said that he was being hounded to death by the dental examiners and a threat had been made to take his license away from him. This may not have been the only reason which led the man to his death, but I am of the opinion that it influenced him largely in that direction."

"I was told by Dr. Craig that he had recently been fined $10 by the board for having failed to pay an assessment of $2 toward the prosecution of a brother dentist who had been arrested for practicing without a certificate from the state board. It is a practice of the board to assess dentists $2 for the purpose and if they fail to pay the assessment they are fined $10. Dr. Craig was not in a financial position to pay the fine and repeatedly said that he was being hounded to death."

Man Was Desperate.

"While in my office Dr. Craig asked me if I had some cyanide. I was surprised at his request, but I then realized that the man was desperate. I told him not to think of doing anything rash and said he could have assistance for the asking. He then left my office and I had not heard of him again until I was advised of his death. He felt that it was about as reasonable to ask him to pay toward the prosecution of a brother dentist as it would be to ask one saloonman to put up money for the prosecution of another saloonman. It is evident that his practice had been falling away of late. He saw no way out of the difficulty and evidently decided to end his troubles in death."

Dr. Craig was unmarried. He was 57 years of age and had been a resident of Oakland since 1878. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Masonic order.

Protest Against Board.

Dr. C. L. Schmidt, who has offices at 1102 Broadway, declared today that the alleged prosecutions of the State Dental Board should be stopped.

"They are hounding men to suicide," he stated. "I paid the board's secretary the $2 which is collected to prosecute other dentists, and asked to see his books, as I wanted to know what was being done with the money. He would show me nothing."

WEALTHY LAWYER IS SHOT IN DISPUTE

F. Russell, Prominent Merchant of Hayward, Owes Life to Books in Pocket.

Fred Russell, a Hayward attorney, was shot by R. H. McMahon, a printer, last night in Hayward, but was not seriously wounded. McMahon is now held at the county jail with a charge of attempting to commit murder.

The dispute which led to the shooting is said to have been the result of a controversy between the two men over wages. The shooting occurred at a planing mill operated by Russell in Hayward. McMahon was formerly an employee at the mill.

McMahon asserts that he shot in self-defense, when Russell tried to eject him from the mill. But Russell claims the shooting was unprovoked. Russell probably owes his life to the fact that he had several books in his pocket, which retarded the progress of the bullet. The bullet spent much time ploughing into Russell's right breast, but was easily extracted.

Seeks Settlement.

McMahon owed Russell a bill for goods, to cancel which he had worked at the planing mill for several days. In attempting to reach a settlement, the men quarreled. Russell says that he told McMahon to leave the place, and gave him a shove.

Russell and his family are prominent in social affairs at Hayward, and are members of the Episcopal Church. He is a brother of President Thomas Russell of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Hayward, and formerly resided in this city, where he was a lawyer.

EXHIBITION OF IRISH LACES ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

THE REV. MICHAEL O'FLANAGAN AND THREE LACE MAKERS.

Effort to Revive a Languishing Industry

There is now on exhibition at Hale Brothers' Market street store in San Francisco some beautiful samples of Irish lace made at Loughlyn school. There are also three young women engaged in making the lace. The exhibition is a great attraction and hundreds of women daily show their interest in the work. The matter is in charge of the Rev. Michael O'Flanagan.

The three girl lace makers are Mary O'Flanagan, Rose Egan and Mary Kate Davoren, all graduates of the industrial school established by Right Rev. Bishop John L. Clancy at Loughlyn, County Roscommon, Ireland.

The lace industry in Ireland is sixty years old, but in common with other Irish industries it has languished under the political conditions from which Ireland has suffered so long. It is Father O'Flanagan's belief that more good will come to Ireland, and that quicker relief from her unhappy situation will come from the support and revival of her many old industries than from an appeal for aid in other directions. To this end he has been sent by Bishop Clancy to make a lecture tour of America, that the industrial situation in Ireland may be placed before Americans and his compatriots in America, and an effort made to awaken interest in one of the most charming and exquisite industries that Ireland or the world has ever known.

In pursuance of this idea Father O'Flanagan and these three Irish lace makers have traveled through the country, exhibiting their products in some large store in every city visited.

AWE OF 13TH LEADS TO SUICIDE

Superstitious Man Seeks Death by Bullet Route Rather Than Sail for Naples on Unlucky Thirteenth.

NEW YORK, June 5.—For a fortnight Felix Palmer, 23 years of age, of Williamsburg, had been telling his friends that they would soon bid him farewell, as a work from Saturday he would sail for Naples. He had purchased his steamship ticket and showed it to many acquaintances. One of those who saw it called Palmer's attention to a point not noticed by him, that the date of his sailing was June 13. "Don't sail on the 13th," counseled the friend; "the ship will sink and you will lose all you have and your life as well."

Palmer hastened to the office where he had purchased the ticket, made known his fear of sailing on June 13 and requested that the ticket be changed to this Saturday, or another date, or that his money be refunded.

The clerk refused. The list was completed for this week, he said. It was against the rules of the office there to change the date of a ticket or refund the money.

"Then I'll die anyway," retorted Palmer, "and I'd rather die by a bullet than drowning," and before any hand could restrain him he drew a big pistol from his pocket and, in sight of all in the place, shot himself in the head. He was dead when an ambulance arrived.

Are You a Lard Eater?

Half the time when a person feels blue and out of sorts you may take it for granted that he is a victim of the "lard habit." Lard-cooked food and good stomachs are never friends for long. Lard food is not healthful food and no ordinary stomach can thoroughly digest it.

Lard comes from the pig-sty; Cottolene from the cotton fields of The Sunny South. Lard is greasy, indigestible, and sometimes absolutely harmful; Cottolene makes food digestible, nutritious, delicious. Cottolene is the perfect shortening and frying medium. It is pure and healthful. It contains not an ounce of hog-fat.

Cottolene is today in use by thousands of housewives who would no more think of going back to lard than they would of reverting to tallow dips for lighting their homes.

Cottolene is one of the products which pure food advocates always endorse.

STANLEY KETCHEL PROVES WONDERFUL FIGHTER

KETCHEL WINS IN MASTERLY STYLE FROM BILL PAPKE

Montana Fighter Too Strong and Fast for Illinois Scrapper—McFarland and Welsh Open in Highest Bidder.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

Like a jack-in-the-box, Stanley Ketchel, the Michigan middleweight, has come from no place, in the race for pugilistic recognition, and forced himself to the top of his class within a short space of one year, and in doing so he has proven beyond all doubt that he is a great fighter and the most probable candidate for heavy weight honors.

By winning from Billy Papke last night at Milwaukee he has cast aside all doubt as to the power of his fighting, for it was agreed that in the Illinois thunder-bolt he would meet a fighter who had every qualification required in a successful pugilist and the defensive, which it is a well known fact that it has always been the custom for the Springs Valley fighter to do the forcing himself, sets aside the doubt as to what will become of Ketchel when he meets a fighter who will step inside his swings and do the forcing, for judging from the outcome of the battle last evening it would appear that Ketchel is not to be forced about by any of the present generation of pugilists.

Several times during the contest Ketchel was hit with sufficient force to stagger him but each time he came right back and generally gave more than he received when it came to punishing his opponent. Papke tasted his first defeat last evening and it was no doubt a bitter pill and he will be after Ketchel for another chance, and whether or not the contest will be worth staging here can only be determined by later reports from the ring side.

Down Goes Papke.

It appears from the dispatches that Ketchel came mighty near handing Mr. Papke the same dose he handed Mike (Twins) Sullivan, for the contest had hardly started before the hard hitting Ketchel landed a right wallop to the head and Papke went to his knees. No doubt the punch missed the mark by a few inches, for it seems only reasonable to believe that had the punch landed on the right spot, Papke would have been counted out right then and there. As it was, however, the fact was that a great help to the chances are that it was a punch to the chest that made it possible for the "vase" for Papke going on the defensive as any other thing. It acted as a warning of what the Springs Valley man could expect if he became too gay with the wallows of his opponent.

Papke succeeded in placing a left uppercut on Ketchel that made him go to the floor in the fourth round, but the referee had time to count over either man as they were up and on their feet, before he got a chance to toll off the fateful seconds.

Papke clung to his opponent so much during the fight that the referee had a hard time in breaking them at times and in doing so he gave proof of the force of Ketchel's punches, for in no other contest has Papke been accused of the same thing.

At the end of the bout Papke was out as bruised, but Ketchel left the ring unmarked. Jimmy Coffroth has sent word that he would like to match Ketchel with Hugo Kelly for his Mission street arena and this would make a great card.

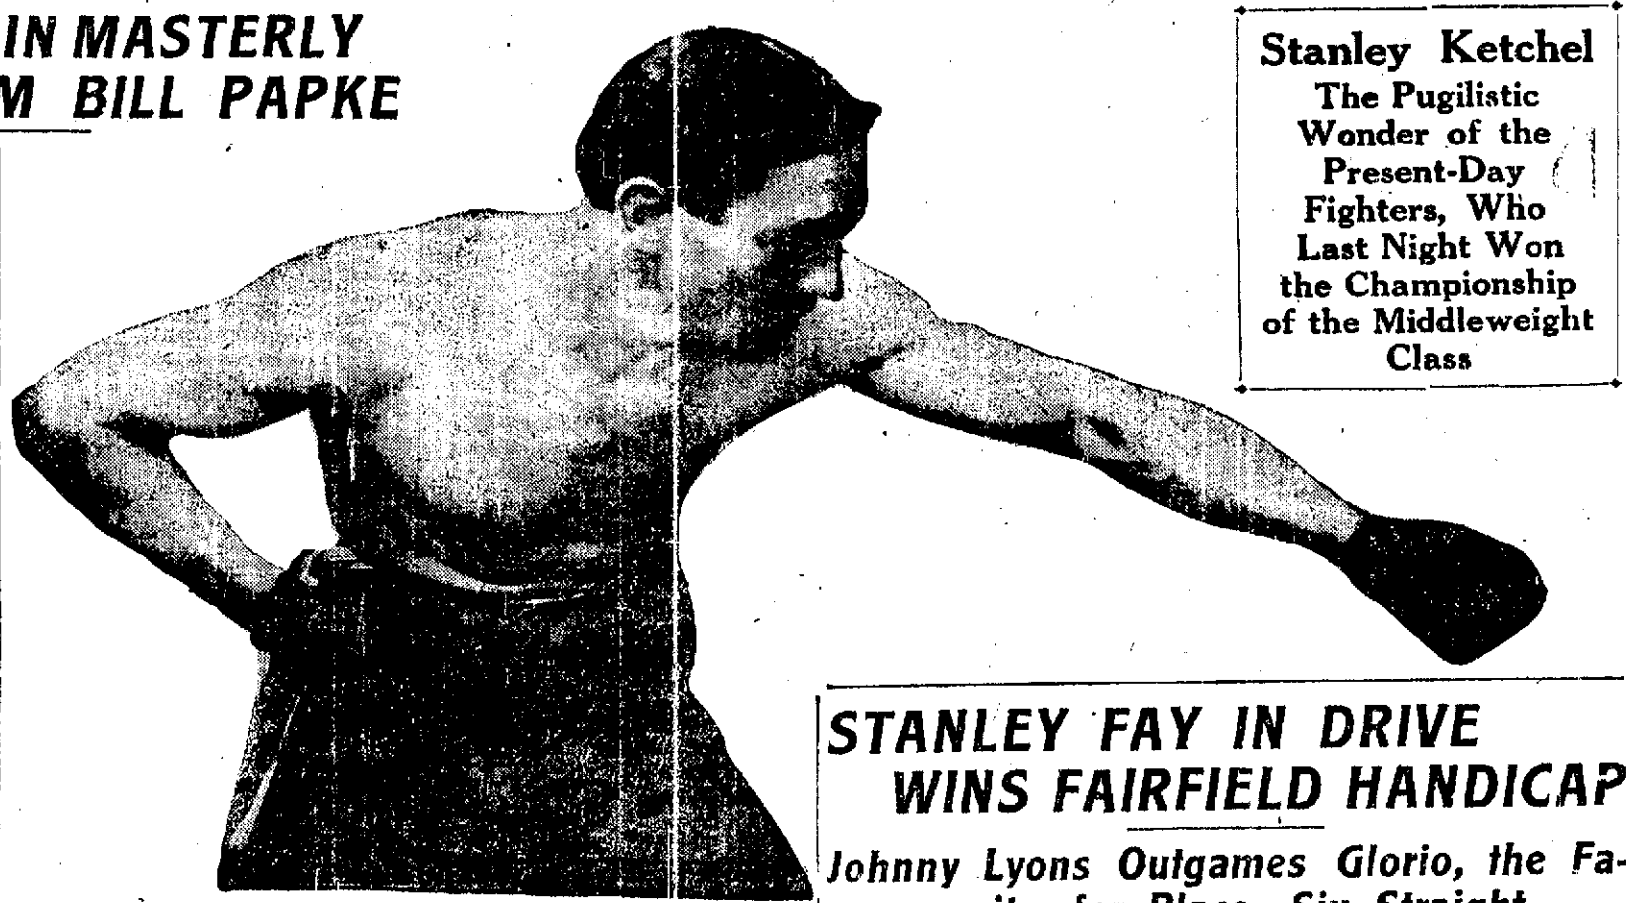

The fighters appeared before at least a $20,000 house, of which the fighters received 50 per cent and as the purse was split 50 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser, Ketchel will receive $5,000, and as he was to get a bonus on the side the chances are that his share of the purse will net him about $5,000, not so bad for a fighter who was a jork and beaver a year ago.

Berger Still Unsettled.
Word has come from Los Angeles that Sam Berger has given up all hope of landing the McFarland-Welsh contest for his June attraction in San Francisco and that he has started to make arrangements with Jimmy Gardner to fight Kyle Whitney in a short distance contest in San Francisco. At the same time a dispatch from Chicago states that the match is open to the highest bidder and that Harry Gillmore, on behalf of McFarland, will hold the contest open until such time as the clubs of the country have a chance to send in their bids.

With the contest thus in the air and all sorts of dispatches going the rounds of the fighting resorts regarding the chances of San Francisco seeing this pair of great fighters, it is evident that there is little to do but wait the time for the signing before becoming too sure as to who will eventually handle the contest.

Boxing Night At San Mateo

SAN MATEO, June 5.—The monthly boxing exhibition of the San Mateo athletic club will be held June 11. The proceeds of the exhibition will be used to enlarge the club house, and as a good card has been provided a large gathering is expected. The main event will be a six-round bout between Ed Christie of San Mateo and Willie Fairbanks of San Francisco at 145 pounds. STANLEY FAY IN DRIVE WINS FAIRFIELD HANDICAP

Johnny Lyons Outgames Glorio, the Favorite, for Place—Six Straight Choices Meet Defeat.

BY LEE DEMIER.

Yesterday afternoon's racing feature at William Park was the Fairfield Handicap, and it resulted in a closely contested finish, in which Stanley Fay, the well-bred second choice, defeated Johnny Lyons and Glorio, the favorite, by half a length.

Lyons, who was the favorite, had a length on his mount, and in a hustling drive outplayed the latter, which displayed more gameness than the favorite, and he could not quite get up, and dropped in to third place. Security dogged it and got nothing.

After the numbers had dropped in the opening race, the talent discovered that Jerryana, at 8 to 1, had scored over Mecklin, the choice. It was a three-way race, and the Randall gelding just got up in the last jump. Show horses went to Webster.

Mabel Hollander ran right back to her last race, and under a well-judged ride easily disposed of the leaders in the stretch and won the second choice race. Sir Bellar ran to his present form and in a drive saved the place from Mike Jordan.

When Fred Bent came rolling home at 6 to 1 in the third, after meeting with all manner of interference throughout the race, the public realized that the favorite was not the only one who could win. The Duke of Devonshire took a calm and dual interest in the races. There was a certain sporting paper that kept a large staff of prophets and always prophesied the outcome of important races. The Duke put great reliance in these prophets. He always read the paper and was continually recommending it to his friends. But once at Goodwood, at the Duke's end, a man came up to the Duke and said: "What of your paper now? Did you see it this morning? Six prophets prophesied that six different horses would win, and here only seven ran, and the winner was the seventh, which no prophet had selected. Well, what have you to say now?" All I have to say, the Duke answered calmly, is that there's no other prophet but that paper."

One of the most remarkable horses that ever ran was Isaac, for whom Sam Darling's grandfather won so many races in the early half of the last century. Isaac was a gray horse, bred by the Hon. T. O. Powlett in 1831, got by Fugate out of Jack Spill's dam by Sovereign, granddam by Precipitate, great granddam by High-five out of Fitzroy, by Eclipse. He ran in the early half of the last century, and continued campaigning until 1840, running 101 times and winning forty-eight times. His career is even more remarkable than may be at first thought, for many of the races were run in heats and he won every one of them. He was so that in reality Isaac's life on the turf was even more strenuous than that of a modern horse, for he won 19 times when he started twenty-three times and won nineteen races—London Sportsman.

Owner Bill Randall collected his getaway coin on the win of Jerryana.

Owner Dan Ross was nosed out for a bunch of coin when Mecklin met defeat in the curtain race.

Roy Offutt went down the line on Webster, Mike Hayes' gelding lasted long enough to be third.

Transmute was nibbled at by the wise set. The St. George mare was pocketed all the way.

In the Fairfield handicap yesterday Stanley Fay demonstrated that he is a colt of sterling class by defeating as shifty a bunch of odds that have been brought together for some time. It was an impressive race from every standpoint. Always in close contention the Canopus colt, admirably ridden by Harry, made his move in the tenth out, and became the American Jockey won Williams to Betty. John Lyons to Harry, Zelder to Williams. Wild plishes—Dellar (2). Time of game—2 hours and 55 minutes. Umpire—Fertiss.

Evenly divided between the American-Italian filly and the Derby winner. The bright weather which favored Epsom week continued with the addition, however, of a cool breeze and another big crowd went to the paddock to see the horses and after the bidding was completed Rhodora and Signorinetta were surrounded by a crowd of handsomely gowned women and their escorts, all taking the keenest interest in the favorites.

Mr. Croker, who is again becoming a familiar figure on the English courses, was in the Jockey Club enclosure. Many Americans were in attendance and Rhodora carried considerable transatlantic money.

Tobe Ramsey and his following cleaned up on the win of Mabel Hollander.

The defeat of Sir Bellar was a sad blow to the talent.

Jockey Sandy rode a well judged race on Fred Bent after being interfused repeatedly.

There is a ticket on sale by the Southern Pacific that reads from Oakland to Denver, from there to Butte, then to Seattle and then back to Oakland. The ticket is good for nine months and stops over at all the above places and the price is $26. It is recommended to all who intend making this circuit as it removes that ever present source of worry—the nomination fee in the get-away stakes.

Lucien Lyne rides Mr. Croker's great filly, Rhodora, in all her training gallops, which he was affected in said usually to give little chance for recovery, even though death is not immediate.

Jockey Albert Walsh rode five favorites that were beaten yesterday.

Harry Stover, with a carload of birds, with sharp claws, departed for Butte yesterday.

What a Famous Sporting Editor in New York Says About Referee Eddie Smith

W. B. (Bat) Masterson, sporting editor of the New York Telegraph, reads THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE. He also respects and approves the opinions of Eddie Smith, sporting editor of THE TRIBUNE. Here is what he has to say about Mr. Smith:

Eddie Smith, the sporting editor of the Oakland, Cal. TRIBUNE, is an advocate of Batting Nelson. Besides being a capable sporting writer Eddie is also rated as one of the foremost referees on the Pacific Coast. Eddie knows the game of fistfight with all its various angles as well as any man in the country. Fighters and fight promoters who attempt to hood the sporting public of San Francisco and what he would say to them would be anything but clubby. Recently when a match between Joe Gans and Abe Attell was suggested as a good thing for the San Francisco sports, Eddie jumped onto the scene with both feet and said he would not go through kicking the daylight out of what was obviously to be a frame-up of some kind, there was no further talk about the match.

Eddie was right in spiking a match between Gans and Attell, and it was not long after the boxing game if there were more sporting editors like Eddie Smith dealing with this particular line of sport. Anent the proposed match between Gans and Attell the sporting editor of THE TRIBUNE had the following to say: "I am sorry to hear that a match between Gans and Attell is being suggested. Here is Attell not a month back refusing to fight Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan, a man out of the game three years and never in his palmy day a match for Gans, unless Sullivan weighed 123 pounds at 5 by the clock on the evening of the match."

Yet this same Attell is willing to battle the great Gans and allow him to make 133 pounds of his side.

"Why? Why? Why?" "There may not be five aces in a deck of cards, but if it ever looked like there was then there are five aces in the deck that Gans and Attell mean to play and the only 'come ons' in such a game would be the public."

The sporting editor of THE TRIBUNE, however, favors a match between Gans and Nelson and states the following reasons for advocating such a contest:

"Because the public wants it. Then there is still some doubt about that forty-two round Goldfield fight."

Moreover Nelson is the only great lightweight in the world whom Gans has not knocked out. Nelson is the only great lightweight in the world, except the rising generation who has never tasted the wormwood of defeat by the knockout route.

Besides the Keesevick wonder is the only man who ever fought Gans and lasted more than twenty-five rounds with him.

Gans and Nelson were standing up and scraping his feet in the resin and ready to continue.

And as first stated, the public wants this match."

At this point in connection with the fact, as Mr. Smith further states, "that Nelson has always fought on the level and given the public a run for its money, although he has had many a hard fight, otherwise, furnish most excellent reasons why he and Gans should meet in the ring and do it once for all which is the better man."

There were any other reasons why the public wanted to see Gans and Nelson exchange wallopance more the sporting editor of THE TRIBUNE forgot to mention them. It would appear, however, as if he had stated a sufficient number of reasons to make most any old kind of a sport about the fighting. Dane when he and Gans meet on the Fourth of July to exchange compliments for the second time, according to the Marquis of Queensberry code of ethics.

Reliance Club Has Good Card

In discussing the list of events that the Reliance Club has on its cards for their evening with the men of the padded fist, the club has announced a truly representative of a triple main event, such as the management has advertised.

By right of size, however, Fred Cooley and G. George Sullivan, the husky heavyweights, will get the place of honor by appearing as the wind-up event of the night's fun. Sullivan has been training in the semi-wind-up with Red Corn and he is a fighter of promise and will win for the coming contest. But he will seem to much better advantage than when he last appeared here, at which time he handed Jack Davis a beating that caused the big fellow to hit the road in a hasty retreat from Oakland.

Up to the time that Sullivan came along Davis had beaten everything he had been hit against since the day he had come to regard him as a very good fighter. Sullivan soon took this notion out of their heads, however, for with only a very few days' training he succeeded in coming out on top all over the ring.

Cooley is a fighter of promise and he has high hopes of winning over Sullivan in a decisive manner, as he will learn for himself another chance at Joe Williams, also of the hard-hitting school, and this contest should be a surprise to the fight fan, for both men will try for a knockout right from the jump. Three four-round preliminaries will start the excitement.
